■ Answer:

The User management is used for creating and configuring the user management for visualizations and their users and groups.

Access right defines the permissions of user groups for a visualization element. There are three permissions, operable, only visible and invisible. Please check the official definition of dialog box

Access rights.

If no user is logged in, then the permissions apply for the visualization elements that are configured for the user group None. The user needs to Login by adding a button in the visualization.
